

THANK YOU, TEACHER!

On Teacher's Day, many of us remember those teachers to whom we owe a great deal. We wish we could show our gratitude and adequately express our thanks and appreciation.

Would you like to say THANK YOU to your teachers or extend your gratitude to some other member of the teaching community with more than just a card or flowers this year? Here is an opportunity for you to do so!

POORNA (www.poorna.in), a not-for-profit organisation, is offering the following set of short, certificate courses in BANGALORE from November 2017. The courses are mainly designed for working teachers and classes will be held on weekends.

1. Inclusive Education

Enables teachers to develop practices that can address the needs of diverse students

2. Reflective Writing for Teachers

Helps develop the art of writing reflective pieces on their everyday experiences with potential for publication

3. Reading Research Papers in Education

Teachers will be exposed to reading strategies that will allow them to read research papers with ease

4. An Ecological Perspective on Language in Education

Develops broader perspectives on language issues in the classroom and sees them in relation to the natural environment and society
